PIC_		Bautzen-Litten Airfield
JPIC			t de tubbandité o ac
			25X1
/ALUAT	7	PLACE GETAINED	To the Energy Express
WE, OF		Single-Fax: UMD NOTE: TO A CONTROL OF SIGNATURE, SEEDING CONTROL OF SIGNATURE CONTROL OF CONTROL OF SIGNATURE CONT	25X1
ATH OB		The state of the s	a sacretores e pas
IFEREN		AMERICAN CONTROL OF A MERICAN	25Y1
VGES		2 ENCLOSURES (NO. & TYPE)	ere como estar o da
EMARK	This	s is UNEVALUATED	0EV4
Markey visitador nasista e			∠3 ∧ I olitik kalendar distribution of section (
	1.	Between 15 May and 5 June 1954, training activity on Yak-lls at	25X1
	23.5	15	,
		Bautzen-litten airfield was continued in favorable weather. During the second half of May in perticular were local flights made. The ing
•		bautzen-litten airfield was continued in favorable weather. During the second half of May in particular were local flights made. During the afternoon of 25 May, 4 Mak-lls individually took off at intervals of 50 to 100 meters. They flew in wide echelon to the right beautage.	25X1
		Bautzen-litten airfield was continued in favorable weather. During the second half of May in perticular were local flights made. The ing
		bautzen-litten airfield was continued in favorable weather. During the second half of May in particular were local flights made. During the afternoon of 25 May, 4 Mak-lls individually took off at intervals of 50 to 100 meters. They flew in wide echelon to the right beautage.
		Bautzen-litten airfield was continued in favorable weather. During the second half of May in particular were local flights made. During the afternoon of 25 May, 4 Mak-lls individually took off at intervals of 50 to 100 meters. They flew in wide echelon to the right heading west and returned to the field approximately after 90 minutes.	25X1
		Bautzen-litten airfield was continued in favorable weather. During the second half of May in particular were local flights made. During the afternoon of 25 May, 4 Vak-lis individually took off at intervals of 50 to 100 meters. They flew in wide echelon to the right heading west and returned to the field approximately after 90 minutes. During the air activity, two radio trucks were always parked at the take-off point. One of the redio trucks had a	25X1
		bautzen-litten airfield was continued in favorable weather. During the second half of May in perticular were local flights made. During the afternoon of 25 May, 4 Mak-hls individually took off at intervals of 50 to 100 meters. They flew in wide echelon to the right heading west and returned to the field approximately after 90 minutes. During the air activity, two radio trucks were always parked at the take-off point. One of the redio trucks had a standard antenna, while the other truck was fitted with an anidentified set. A fire truck, an ambulance and on to 50 soldiers were seen at the	25X1
		bautzen-litten airfield was continued in favorable weather. During the second half of May in particular were local flights made. During the afternoon of 25 May, 4 Mak-hls individually took off at intervals of 50 to 100 meters. They flew in wide echelon to the right heading west and returned to the field approximately after 90 minutes. During the air activity, two radio trucks were always parked at the take-off point. One of the redio trucks had a standard antenna, while the other truck was fitted with an anidentified set. A fire truck, an ambulance and up to 50 soldiers were seen at the take-off point. Each trainer aircraft usually made a short local flight with the landing gear extended, and subsequently circled once widely	25X1
		Bautzen-litten airfield was continued in favorable weather. During the second half of May in particular were local flights made. During the afternoon of 25 May, 4 Mak-hls individually took off at intervals of 50 to 100 meters. They flew in wide echelon to the right heading west and returned to the field approximately after 90 minutes. During the air activity, two radio trucks were always parked at the take-off point. One of the redio trucks had a stendard antenna, while the other truck was fitted with an anidentified set. A fire truck, an ambulance and up to 50 soldiers were seen at the take-off point. Each trainer aircraft usually made a short local flight with the landing gear extended, and subsequently circled once widely over the field with its lancing gear retracted. After the laxing, the aircraft was refueled. Eight Yak-lls there presumably located at the	25X1
		Bautzen-litten airfield was continued in favorable weather. During the second half of May in particular were local flights made. During the afternoon of 25 May, 4 Mak-lls individually took off at intervals of 50 to 100 meters. They flew in wide echelon to the right heading west and returned to the field approximately after 90 minutes. During the air activity, two radio trucks were always parked at the take-off point. One of the redio trucks had a standard antenna, while the other truck was fitted with an anidentified set. A fire truck, an ambulance and up to 50 soldiers were seen at the take-off point. Each trainer aircraft usually made a short local flight with the landing gear extended, and subsequently circled once widely over the field with its landing gear retracted. After the lawing, the aircraft was refueled. Eight Yak-lls were presumably located at the field.	25X1
	2.	Bautzen-litten sirfield was continued in favorable weather. During the second half of May in particular were local flights made. During the afternoon of 25 May, 4 Mak-lls individually took off at intervals of 50 to 100 meters. They flew in wide echelon to the right heading west and returned to the field approximately after 90 minutes. During the air activity, two radio trucks were always parked at the take-off point. One of the radio trucks had a standard antenna, while the other truck was fitted with an anidentified set. A fire truck, an ambulance and up to 50 soldiers were seen at the take-off point. Each trainer aircraft usually made a short local flight with the landing gear extended, and subsequently circled once widely over the field with its landing gear retracted. After the lawing, the aircraft was refueled. Eight Yak-lls were presumably located at the field. A radio installation with four masts, each about 8 meters high, was observed about 20 meters west of the flight control station. In too	25X1
		bautzen-litten sirfield was continued in favorable weather. During the second half of May in particular were local flights made. During the afternoon of 25 May, 4 Mak-lls individually took off at intervals of 50 to 100 meters. They flew in wide echelon to the right heading west and returned to the field approximately after 90 minutes. During the air activity, two radio trucks were always parked at the take-off point. One of the redio trucks had a standard antenna, while the other truck was fitted with an unidentified set. A fire truck, an ambulance and up to 50 soldiers were seen at the take-off point. Each trainer aircraft usually made a short local flight with the landing gear extended, and subsequently circled once widely over the field with its landing gear retracted. After the laxing, the aircraft was refueled. Eight Yak-lls tere presumably located at the field. A radio installation with four masts, each about 8 meters high, was observed about 20 meters west of the flight control station. In top of the masts was a disk the diameter of which was about twice as large as that of the mast. In the middle of the source of masts was a ward	25X1
		bautzen-litten sirfield wis continued in favorable weather. During the second half of May in particular were local flights made. During the afternoon of 25 May, 4 Mak-lls individually took off at intervals of 50 to 100 meters. They flew in wide echelon to the right heading west and returned to the field approximately after 90 minutes. During the air activity, two radio trucks were always parked at the take-off point. One of the redio trucks had a standard antenna, while the other truck was fitted with an unidentified set. A fire truck, an ambulance and up to 50 soldiers were seen at the take-off point. Each trainer aircraft usually made a short local flight with the landing gear extended, and subsequently circled once widely over the field with its landing gear retracted. After the lawing, the aircraft was refueled. Eight Yak-lls were presumably located at the field. A redio installation with four masts, each about 8 meters high, was observed about 20 meters west of the flight control station. On too of the masts was a disk the diameter of which was about twice as large as that of the mast. In the middle of the square of masts was a bent to which a wire extended from each mast. A fifth mast was located into	25X1
		bautzen-litten sirfield wis continued in favorable weather. During the second half of May in particular were local flights made. During the afternoon of 25 May, 4 Mak-lls individually took off at intervals of 50 to 100 meters. They flew in wide echelon to the right heading west and returned to the field approximately after 90 minutes. During the air activity, two radio trucks were always parked at the take-off point. One of the redio trucks had a standard antenna, while the other truck was fitted with an unidentified set. A fire truck, an ambulance and up to 50 soldiers were seen at the take-off point. Each trainer aircraft usually made a short local flight with the landing gear extended, and subsequently circled once wilely over the field with its lancing gear retracted. After the laxing, the aircraft was refueled. Eight Yak-lls tere presumably located at the field. A radio installation with four masts, each about 8 meters high, was observed abo to 20 meters west of the flight control station. In top of the masts was a disk the diameter of which was about twice as large as that of the mast. In the middle of the square of masts was a went to which a wire extended from each mast. A fifth mast was located just south of the square of masts. A the beginning of June, 4 large fuel containers were still stored on the ground near the fuel dums.	25X1
	2.	buring the air activity, two radio trucks were always packed at the take-off point. One of the redio trucks had a standard antenna, while the other truck was fitted with an anidentified set. A fire truck, an ambulance and up to 50 soldiers were seen at the take-off point. Each trainer with the landing gear extended, and subsequently circled me wifely over the field with its lancing gear retracted. After the lating, the aircraft was refueled. Eight Yak-lla tere presumably located at the field. A radio installation with four masts, each about 8 meters high, was observed abo t 20 meters west of the flight control station. In too of the masts was a disk the diameter of which was about twice as large as that of the mast. In the middle of the square of masts was a beat to which a wire extended from each mast. A fifth mast was located just south of the square of masts. A fifth mast was located just south of the square of masts. A fifth mast was located just south of the square of masts. A fifth mast was located just south of the square of masts. A fifth mast was located just south of the square of masts. A fifth mast was located just south of the square of masts. A fifth mast was located just south of the square of masts. A fifth mast was located just south of the square of masts. A fifth mast was located just south of the square of masts. A fifth mast was located just south of the square of masts. A fifth mast was located just south of the square of masts. A fifth mast was located just south of the square of masts. A fifth mast was located just south of the square of masts. A fifth mast was located just south of the square of masts. A fifth mast was located just south of the square of masts. A fifth mast was located just south of the square of masts. A fifth mast was located just south of the square of masts. A fifth mast was located just south of the square of masts. A fifth mast was located just south of the square of masts.	25X1
		bautzen-litten sirfield wis continued in favorable weather. During the second half of May in particular were local flights made. During the afternoon of 25 May, 4 Mak-lls individually took off at intervals of 50 to 100 meters. They flew in wide echelon to the right heading west and returned to the field approximately after 90 minutes. During the air activity, two radio trucks were always parked at the take-off point. One of the redio trucks had a standard antenna, while the other truck was fitted with an unidentified set. A fire truck, an ambulance and up to 50 soldiers were seen at the take-off point. Each trainer aircraft usually made a short local flight with the landing gear extended, and subsequently circled once wilely over the field with its lancing gear retracted. After the laxing, the aircraft was refueled. Eight Yak-lls tere presumably located at the field. A radio installation with four masts, each about 8 meters high, was observed abo to 20 meters west of the flight control station. In top of the masts was a disk the diameter of which was about twice as large as that of the mast. In the middle of the square of masts was a went to which a wire extended from each mast. A fifth mast was located just south of the square of masts. A the beginning of June, 4 large fuel containers were still stored on the ground near the fuel dums.	25X1
	2.	the second half of lay in particular were local flights made. Buring the afternoon of 25 May, 4 Mak-Ils individually took off at intervals of 50 to 100 meters. They flew in wide echelon to the right heading west and returned to the field approximately after 90 minutes. During the air activity, two radio trucks were always parked at the take-off point. One of the radio trucks had a standard antenna, while the other truck was fitted with an unidentified set. A five truck, an ambulance and up to 50 soldiers were seen at the take-off point. Each trainer aircraft usually made a short local flight with the landing gear extended, and subsequently circled once widely over the field with its landing gear retracted. After the laxing, the aircraft was refueled. Eight Yak-Ils were presumably located at the field. A radio installation with four masts, each about 8 meters high, was observed about 20 meters west of the flight control station. In top of the masts was a disk the diameter of which was about twice as large as that of the mast. In the middle of the square of masts was a went to which a wire extended from each mast. A fifth mast was located just south of the square of mast. At the beginning of June, A large fuel containers were still stored on the ground near the fuel dump. As previously, no AA gun emplacements were observed at or near the field.	25X1
	2.	bautzen-litten sirfield wis continued in favorable weather. During the second half of May in particular were local flights made. During the afternoon of 25 May, 4 Mak-lls individually took off at intervals of 50 to 100 meters. They flew in wide echelon to the right heading west and returned to the field approximately after 90 minutes. During the air activity, two radio trucks were always parked at the take-off point. One of the redio trucks had a standard antenna, while the other truck was fitted with an unidentified set. A fire truck, an ambulance and up to 50 soldiers were seen at the take-off point. Each trainer aircraft usually made a short local flight with the landing gear extended, and subsequently circled once wilely over the field with its lancing gear retracted. After the laxing, the aircraft was refueled. Eight Yak-lls tere presumably located at the field. A radio installation with four masts, each about 8 meters high, was observed abo to 20 meters west of the flight control station. In top of the masts was a disk the diameter of which was about twice as large as that of the mast. In the middle of the square of masts was a went to which a wire extended from each mast. A fifth mast was located just south of the square of masts. A the beginning of June, 4 large fuel containers were still stored on the ground near the fuel dums.	25X1

Approved For Release 2007/08/13: CIA-RDP80-00810A004501130002-8

25X1

SEC	HET/
	m 2 m
Somment.	Tesining with V	ak-lls is still conduct		25 stationed at th	e field. The lst; Kamenz airfield.	elieved that about 12) Section of Sauthen Acro	lak-lls are Polub traics	25 X 1
Comment.	Probably a DF sta	tion.
Comment.	The reported number	oer of fuel containers	at Smitzen	25
Litten airfield	fluctuates perme	en 4 and 3.	A CONTRACTOR OF THE STATE OF TH
				25)
	· ·

SECRET